BONE DRY LAW IN EFFECT JULY 1

Reed Amendment Makes Shipment Crime.

ADVERTISEMENTS OF LIQUORS

To Be Weeded From Forbidden

Zone—Law to Be Tested
By Cairo, Ill., Firm.

Washington, June 25.—While Congress is debating the extent of "war-time" prohibition for the nation, two other departments of the Government are preparing to make twenty-one States "bone dry" effective next Sunday. The Reed "bone dry" amendment to the Post Office Appropriation Act becomes operative on July 1.

This amendment makes it a Federal crime to ship or transport any form of intoxicants into a State where the manufacture and sale of such liquors for beverage purposes is forbidden by State law. It provides also that publishers shall not mail liquor advertisements into any State where such advertisements are forbidden.

The Post-office Department has been busy for several months preparing a dictionary for use of the postmasters of the country in the enforcement of the law against liquor advertisements. Solicitor Lamar is in charge of this work, and he has assembled information from many States with reference to liquor advertising.

New York.—The women's ambulance unit, which is being formed here by Miss Jane B. Sutherland for service at the front in France, has been virtually completed, it was announced. More than fifty women have volunteered their services, offering to supply their own cars. Members of the unit are receiving daily training.

Miss Marjorie Bond, of Malden, Mass., has volunteered to organize another women's motor ambulance unit in New England, if it can be used.

BOY DROWNS IN GREEN RIVER

Central City, Ky., June 24.—Charles Duncan, 17-year-old son of W. D. Duncan, president of District 23, United Mine Workers, was drowned in Green river, near here today. Young Duncan and other boys were swimming. His calls for help were thought to be a joke as the boys very frequently called for help in a jocular manner. Due to so many being in the water his absence was not noticed for fifteen minutes. The body was recovered.

WOODROW WILSON.

PEACE TERMS GIVEN TO PRESS

Would Include Practical Absorption of Serbia and Montenegro.

Copenhagen, June 22.—Assumption that the "survey of Austrian public opinion on war aims," circulated by the Austrian Correspondence Bureau, represented the Austro-Hungarian government's program of peace terms is confirmed by an article in the Lemberg Gazette, reproducing these conditions of the official government program. The article, for which high authority is claimed, says that Serbia and Montenegro must find their future economic development in close economic association with Austria-Hungary. In other words, it proposes a customs union.

It declares that Lovcen Mountain, in Montenegro, must be retained as the key of the Gulf of Cattaro, and that Albania must be given autonomy under military and economic suzerainty of Austria-Hungary.

Discussing Rumania, the statement says that this question is for Austria-Hungary identical with the Danube problem and arrangements must be made for a free open Danube route not subject to the control of any foreign power. Finally that Austria-Hungary must have a better military frontier against Italy, more fully protecting Trieste and the Tyrol.

HENDERSON ASHBY

Succumbs to Stomach Trouble—
Prominent Church Member and Mason.

(Centertown Special.)

Mr. Henderson Ashby, age 56, a very prominent citizen living near Centertown, died last Sunday about 1 o'clock p. m., of a complication of diseases. He had been in poor health for two years and had been dangerously ill for several weeks; his death, therefore, was not unexpected. The funeral occurred Monday at Walton's Creek church, near town, and was attended by a very large crowd.

Mr. Ashby leaves a wife and son Everett at home, a son Will Ed., in Detroit, Mich.; Hubert, who lives near the old homestead, and one daughter, who is the wife of J. F. Ross, of Centertown, and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. He had long been a church member.

The Masons had charge of the funeral, as Mr. Ashby was a member of Centertown lodge No. 714. The lodge was assisted by C. M. Crowe, Master of Hartford lodge, in the conduct of the funeral, which was very impressive.

SCHAEFER—MARKS.

Tomorrow at high noon, at the home of the bride in Toccoa, Ga., Miss Mary Carter Schaefer will be united in marriage to Mr. J. W. Marks, of Guffney, S. C., formerly of Hartford.

Mrs. Tribble, of Hot Springs, Ark., a sister of the bride, will be matron of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Bruce, of Toccoa, will be bridesmaid. Mr. Marks will have Mr. L. A. Crenshaw, of Knoxville, La., as his best man. They will leave immediately after the ceremony for a bridal tour in the East, including Niagara Falls, Washington and Atlantic City.

They will visit the family of the groom's mother, Mrs. T. S. Marks, after their return, about July 1st.

Mr. Marks is a civil engineer and has made rapid progress in his adopted State.

His many friends join The Herald in wishing he and his bride a long and happy married life.

OIL OPERATORS HERE.

Mr. W. D. Shira, of Butler, Pa., who says that he will drill the first oil well in LaRue county, was in Hodgenville yesterday, accompanied by another oil operator, and they inspected some of the territory Mr. Shira has leased, with a probable view of locating the point for the first well to be drilled.—[LaRue County Herald.]

JULY 4 TO BE DESIGNATED AS RECRUITING DAY

By the County Judge—Last Chance For Those Who Desire to Join Home Company To Get In.

"JINE WHILE THE JININ'S GOOD."

Lieut. Estill Barnett, who has been here several weeks enlisting recruits for Company H, will request County Judge John B. Wilson to designate Wednesday, July 4th, as recruiting day for Ohio county, and appeals to all patriotic young men who expect to serve their country under the colors of Uncle Sam, to sign up on this day.

Lieut. Barnett is desirous of having Ohio county represented by the pure and unadulterated volunteers and this is the last chance our young men will have to get into a home company. So get in now while there is room.

A recruiting officer will be at Sulphur Springs on that date (July 4) and will be glad to receive any applications who desire to get into Company H.

Join the company of home boys, and serve under home officers. It is much more desirous than serving in a company with a lot of strange boys and under strange officers.

"Jine while Jinin's good!"

CIRCUIT COURT MONDAY.

The July term of the Ohio Circuit Court will convene next Monday for a two weeks term. This is both civil and commonwealth term and a number of cases will come before the court this term, the most important of which is that of the Com'th. vs. Ernest Litsey, charged with murder, and an alienation suit for $15,000, in which John Willis and Joe Maden are the principals.

Only 28 appearance suits are on docket for this term, the smallest in a year.

PRESIDENT CHERRY COMING.

Supt. Shultz received a letter yesterday afternoon from President H. H. Cherry stating that he would be at the Ohio County Teachers' Institute on Tuesday and Tuesday night. He will address the Institute on Tuesday afternoon and on Tuesday night will deliver a lecture to which everyone is invited.

No one who can possibly attend can afford to miss hearing Prof. Cherry, who is pre-eminently Kentucky's greatest educator.

INSANE MAN GOES ON MURDEROUS RAMPAGE AND THEN SURRENDERS.

Watertown, N. Y.—As the result of an outbreak on the part of Frank Driggs, a farm hand who is believed to be demented, four persons were killed at the Buck Farm, near Stockholm, St. Lawrence county. Driggs used a rifle in his murderous attack.

The victims were: Henry Ladue, forty-five; his brother, James Ladue, forty-eight; Mrs. Josephine Rogers, forty, sister of the Ladue brothers, and Dr. Theron Jenkins, of Brusher Falls, who had been called to the house to administer to Driggs professionally.

SHOT BY HIGHWAYMAN

AT CENTRAL CITY

Young Coal Miner Robbed of Small Amount of Money and Then Murdered.

Marvin Murphy, a young white man of Central City, was brought to Owensboro last night in an attempt to save his life by an operation made necessary from being shot by a highwayman. Murphy was shot through the stomach and very little hopes were entertained last night for his recovery. Murphy and Jesse Wilkins, another young man were returning home after having received their pay envelopes at the mine pay office. Murphy had been working but a short while and had drawn but a small amount of money. At an isolated location in the railroad yards a hold-up man stepped from behind some cars and ordered the men to give him their money. When both men placed all they had in their hats, the highwayman looked at Murphy's money and remarked, "You haven't enough money for me to bother about so I'll just shoot you." He followed his words by action and Murphy dropped. The highwayman made his escape.

Dr. Crowder, of Central City, accompanied Murphy to Owensboro and Dr. J. C. Hoover was called into consultation and for operation.

Laurence Coleman, a negro, was brought over from Central City for an operation in the Owensboro hospital. The man had sustained a fractured leg in one of the mines. Dr. Crowder was the attending physician and was assisted by Dr. Hoover, of Owensboro.—[Sunday Owensboro Messenger.]

Murphy died at the hospital in Owensboro Sunday.

COCCHI ADMITS GIRL'S DEATH

Prisoner Confesses Killing
Preceded by Assault.

GIVES DETAILS OF HIS CRIME

Became Enraged When Miss
Cruger Rebuffed His Persistent Ententions.

Bologna, Italy, June 23.—Alfred Cocchi, the fugitive New York motorcycle dealer, abandoned today his pretense of his innocence of the murder of Ruth Cruger and confessed his guilt. Jealousy was his motive. He was unable, he declared, to win her love and became furious when she rebuffed his persistent attentions.

The admissions of the young Italian, whose escape the New York police failed to prevent, were made in tears after searching interrogations by Judge Zucconi broke down Cocchi's reserve. Prior to this examination Cocchi had coolly and insistently maintained he had known Miss Cruger only two days before her disappearance in February, when she went to his shop to have her skates sharpened, and had declared his conduct toward her was entirely correct.

Under Judge Zucconi's searching questions today, however, Cocchi finally burst into tears. He became so agitated as his confession fell haltingly from his lips that the persons surrounding him believed he was about to have an epileptic fit.

BOYS SEIZE ENGINE

Run It Up and Down Tracks and Have Lucky Escape.

Hickman, Ky.—Finding an N. C. & St. L. railway engine idle on the side track here, Chester Wright and Lawrence Allen, two boys about sixteen years old, decided to run her to Cairo. They engaged the services of another boy about twelve years old to fire for them, but he jumped the job. The locomotive, however, carried enough steam for immediate service and the boys opened the throttle and went up and down the track for a time before they were discovered.

It is a miracle that the engine did not run off with them as there was no air on to work the brakes even if they had known how to apply them.

They managed to stop by throwing the reverse, but had any speed been attained this would not have worked.

The inbound passenger train was due about this time, but W. R. Phipps, local yardman, discovered the boys just in time to get the engine back in the clear. When asked what they intended to do about meeting this passenger train, one boy said: "We've got as good chance to pass them as they have us." The boys were arrested and held for trial by Juvenile Court.

It is reported that the boys first decided to get to Cairo on horseback, and all three of them on the same horse tried to make the animal swim the Mississippi river, but when the horse got out about fifty yards and struck the current he came back with them.

NO DECISION REACHED

As to the Location of the Kentucky and Indiana Guard Camp.

Washington.—Gen. Mann, chief of the militia affairs division of the army, said that three more national guard camp sites would have to be selected, all in South-eastern Department, before a decision was reached as to where the Kentucky and Indiana guards will go into camp. Then, said Gen. Mann, the Kentucky and Indiana guards will be sent to that camp of those selected most convenient from a transportation standpoint to home States.

Mrs. Bessie Schade, wife of Walter Schade, president of a motor car company in Louisville, was instantly killed Sunday night, when an auto driven by her husband in which he was seriously wounded, when the car in which they were riding went into the stone wall approach to a bridge over Bear Grass creek, a few miles out from Louisville.

BOMBS BURST NEAR FORMER KENTUCKIAN

The Rev. B. A. Jenkins Witnesses
Raid of Hostile Aeroplanes
On Folkstone.

Folkstone, Eng.—By mail to Associated Press.—Among those who experienced the horrors of the recent German air raid on Folkstone, in which many persons were killed and injured, was the Rev. Burris A. Jenkins, of Kansas City, Mo., formerly of Lexington, Ky. In a statement given to the Associated Press, Mr. Jenkins graphically described this record-breaking attack, and told of his sensations during the rain of destruction from the sky.

"It was our first time under fire, and it reminded me of a Missouri cyclone," he said. "The only drawback to this comparison is that the sun was shining in a clear blue sky over a placid sea."

"As the shells were crashing around us and houses were caving in, before I knew it I was humming a long-forgotten tune, doubtless subconsciously associated with these old days. The other men in our party independently testified that they also began singing softly."

All Confess Fear.
"Perhaps the tendency to sing or whistle is a manifestation of nerves, and explains why troops always do so when we see them embarking for France, they know that next day they will be in the trenches—maybe over the parapet. At all events, we all confessed to nerves and fear."

"Most people took to the collars. Had I known there was a cellar handy, or that it is considered good form in the circumstances, I should have followed; for soon I found myself alone on the beach overlooking the sea, where I had gone at the first cry of 'Zeppels'."

"When I rushed out of our house by the seaside, I found crowds pressing upward in the direction of the sun. I could see nothing for the glare; neither apparently could others."

"Suddenly two little girls cried: 'There they are.' Then I saw them, two aeroplanes, not Zeppelins, emerging from the disc of the sun almost overhead. Then four more, or five, in a line, and others and others, all like bright silver insects hovering against the blue of the sky. The heavens seemed full of them. There were about a score in all, and we were charmed with the beauty of the sight. I am sure few of us thought seriously of danger."

Detonation Shakes Earth.
"Then the air was split by the whistle and rush of the first bomb, which sounded like the shrill siren of a car. This was followed at once by a detonation that shook the earth. I heard nobody shriek, weep or cry aloud. The people were marvelously controlled."

"I glanced in the direction of the shell burst, a hundred yards away, and the debris was still going up like a column of smoke. Then came two more strokes, apparently in the same spot. Then three other bombs fell. I afterward found the missiles wrecked the O Hotel and wounded our motor driver."

"Then another bomb demolished the Manor House by the sea. Two others now fell in the water behind me and the gravel and mud and water spouted up in a geyser to the top of the cliffs where I stood. Later I learned that one of these shots tore off the legs of a little boy playing with his sister. The mother lay in a faint and the little sister, driven mad, rushed blindly into the water. She was rescued by a wounded soldier."

"Other shots fell, but I could count no further. They came thick and fast, like crackling, rolling blasts of our Western lightning and thunder. Nobody has reported the number of shells so far as I know, but there were 200 or more casualties, nearly a hundred of them fatalities."

"Anti-aircraft shells were now hursting on the fringes of the fleet. Then followed in the distance the purr of the machine guns, and we knew that our own planes were up in pursuit. We were later informed that three of the hostile fleet were brought down in the channel."

"When I reached the spot where the first three bombs had fallen glass strewn the street for a block. In the middle of the macadam road was a shell hole, six or eight feet across, and three feet deep. Here lay two men in uniform who looked to me to be dead; there a civilian, white-haired, who I knew had been killed."

"Yonder was a little girl, half her face gone; yonder a young woman, both feet gone. Our young Lieutenant, a Y. M. C. A. man from Canada, our host for those days, himself wearing the gold stripe on his arm which betokens a wound, and legs longer fit for service in the field, was bending over the wounded. I heard,

Prices and the Duty Of the Government

An amazing revelation as to comparative prices in this country and in England was made in Congress Tuesday by Representative Graham of Illinois.

England is supposed to be on the verge of starvation, but the table of comparative prices in England and the United States shows the following:

English prices—English beef, 44 cents a pound; butter, 40 to 56 cents a pound; potatoes, $2.10 a bushel; bacon 48 cents a pound, and flour, $8.20 a barrel.

The American prices on the same day were: Beef, 42 cents a pound; butter, 42½ cents a pound; potatoes, $3.75 a bushel; bacon, 45 cents a pound, and flour, $17.60 a barrel.

The bulk of the wheat and flour of England is imported. Every article that England uses is partly imported. The very wheat from which the flour in England is sold at $8.20 a barrel is brought over from Canada and the United States, or maybe from South America. The wheat which is used to make the flour for which we pay $14 a barrel is grown in this country.

Pig iron at the furnace is more than twice as high as it was before the war.

We hear much about the beneficence of great corporations toward philanthropies operated in connection with the government. Now, we are not so demagogical and insincere as to charge that this beneficence is in any way tainted, but we cannot throw up our hat and applaud the charity of any corporation when it has jumped the price of steel arbitrarily from $40 to $90 a ton, or shoot the price of coal from $2 to $7 a ton. The charities of these big concerns are a great deal like the charities of the gambler. In the old one of the stricken soldiers moaning now: 'Mother, Oh Mother.' Yonder lay two little babies already covered with sackcloth.

"We rushed into a nearby basement where they said there was a wounded woman. Her hip was gashed. A Red Cross nurse appeared from nowhere. Now they were carrying an old lady, shaking with palsy, from a shell of a house. She was 80, if a day. She had on bonnet and gloves. How she managed thus to array herself for departure from her home or to live at all in her demolished house, is beyond me."

Houses Mere Walls.

"All this is what I, myself saw, and one pair of eyes could see only a small corner of the devastated area. Houses were mere walls. All the interiors were torn out, as if by fire. A girls' school nearby was a wreck."

"Down the slope of the lower and busier section of the town, a narrow street, crowded with afternoon shoppers, was strewn with scores of dead, mostly girls and women. The wearing the gold stripe on his arm which betokens a wound, and legs longer fit for service in the field, was bending over the wounded. I heard, days gamblers were known as most charitable men, but usually these men lived by skinning the public out of $5 and giving $1 of it ostentatiously back to charity."

At first we thought the food bill would not reach the end desired, but that bill ought to be passed, and the power to the government to control the prices of material, such as lumber and iron and copper and coal should be granted; and if this power fails to secure an adjustment, then the power ought to be given the government to seize mines, factories, railroads, lumber yards, gins, wheat bins, chicken coops, chicken houses, cold storage plants and even pig pens, to the end that there will be a fair adjustment of prices.

This is no time for the ordinary toll-taker to become a highwayman. This country is fighting for its life. This fight may be decided within the next six months, and during this period highway robbery, euphemistically called "smart speculation," should be stopped. Of course every man is entitled to a reward for his efforts. Every man is entitled to a profit on his labor, but the way we are going now, those who control prices will not only break down the people, but they will finally bankrupt the government.

If we prosecute this war on the present prices, we will spend more money in six months than England has spent during the whole three years of war. Instead of being a creditor nation for three months, we will be bankrupt in a year.

The United States government has a right to draft its citizens for military service. The same power that gives it this right gives it the right to draft all the material resources of this country.—[Commercial Appeal.]

was a mass of brick and stone and every girl in it was dead.

"The remarkable thing was that I heard no shrieking and saw no weeping nor wringing of hands. All faces were white; teeth were clenched, lips compressed. Women clutched at their garments or spasmodically smote their breasts. But not a moan, nor a loud word escaped any lip within my hearing."

Once Lived In Lexington.
The Rev. Burris A. Jenkins for several years was president of Transylvania College, then Kentucky University, in Lexington. While a resident of Lexington, he made many friends in Central Kentucky. He left Kentucky about ten years ago and since has spent much of his time in Kansas City, where for a time, he had a church.

Lower Tire Cost Than Ever—NOW

For, in the old days, tires not only cost motorists more per tire, but were also so far inferior to the present product, that the final cost—the cost per mile—was from 50 to 100 or more per cent. higher than you pay now.

The Human Factors In Good Service

There are three parties to every telephone conversation—the party calling, the trained operator, and the party who answers. All three share alike the responsibility for quick and accurate telephone service.

The calling party should give the correct number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the transmitter, and wait at the telephone until the party answers or the operator reports. The called party should answer promptly.

Patience on the part of the telephone user and the telephone operator is also essential to good service.

POOR OLD ADAM

When we read the book of Genesis we find in the twenty-sixth verse of the first chapter these words: "Let us make man. And God made man after His own image."

Adam had no babyhood. He never nestled at a mother's breast. He was never caressed with kisses and he missed all of that loving baby talk that doting mothers whisper into pink shell-like ears, a language that baby understands, but no other mortal can.

We cannot help but feel sorry for Adam and some day there will arise out of obscurity a bright young dramatist who will write a great drama about the man without a childhood.

When one pauses for a moment to think what Adam missed the natural sympathy of every boy goes out to him.

We are also told in Genesis that Adam was made of dust. He was the first man fashioned after the model of God thought most advisable. The most deplorable feature of Adam's tempestuous career was that he never was a boy.

What man lives today who does not look back on his boyhood days as the happiest of his life? He plays with his youthful yesterdays in almost childish delight and they flood upon him in his old days with rejuvenating buoyancy. What man or woman descending into the vale of forgetfulness does not long to live over again for a little while at least the days of youth.

"Backward, urn backward, oh time in your flight. Make me a child again just for tonight."

It is a line that has rung in the hearts of many men who feel the weight of crowding years.

We may read the story of Adam without consulting the higher critics and once begun the reading will be continued without urging. But as we read we cannot help feeling sorry for the man who never was a boy and who never enjoyed the delights of that glad season of human existence.

"And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul."

A living soul; yes, but a living soul plunged at once into the responsibilities, sins and penalties of manhood. Think of the 900 years that Adam lived without one happy thought of boyhood, without even a reminiscence of that carefree period of youth.

Let us be thankful that fate has been more kind to us than to the first of the race and that we may pray fervently, "Lord keep my memory green." The joys and initial delights are in the treasure house of the mind. Its moving picture shows the boy hero of innumerable games. He may not have grown up to be a Lincoln, a Napoleon or a Lee, but he was all three at the start and at 70 he can live those glories over and touch them up a little for the admiration of posterity.

The delights of the swimming pool are his and so are the thrills of many adventures into the unknown. He was the center of the family, which is to say, the center of the world. He hears the laughter and praises of the family circle as he dreams, and poor Adam, who had no youth and no boyhood, who was condemned as it were, to man's estate, could recall no lullahys, no childish prattle, no boyish pranks. From the moment our mind awakens clasped in the loving embrace of mother's sheltering arms, our youthful days are filled with happiness. The weas and sorrows and vicissitudes of later in your flight. Make me a child days of youth. Our childish troubles are trivial and responsibility is unknown. How much, how very much poor Adam must have missed.

Going back to his earliest recollections these were the awful words that struck upon Adam's ears:

"Cursed is the ground for thy sake; to sorrow shalt thou eat of it, all the days of thy life. Thorns also, and thistles shall it bring forth to thee and thou shalt eat of the herbs of the field. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till thou return unto the ground, for out of it wast thou taken, for dust thou art and unto dust shalt thou return."

This was Adam's earliest recollection. Poor old Adam.—[Commercial Appeal.

PATRIOTISM DEMANDS PIGS BE PRODUCED

Feeder Will Receive Margin Of Profit and the Pig Will "Do His Bit" to Win the War.

Many people are expressing doubt as to the economy of fall pigs at a time when grain prices are as high as at present. This question must not be settled too hastily. We must take two main points into consideration: First, the price of hogs has enjoyed a rise equal in proportion to the feed that produces the pork. The elimination of a large proportion of this fall's pig crop may mean actual distress from a subsequent shortage of pork.

Second, let us ask if there breathes among us a man in whom patriotism is dead. The community that harbors such an individual is certainly cursed with a curse. He who counts only the profits when others are keeping the enemy from his home, is guilty of nothing short of treason. The army needs pork, the laborers in the munition and other factories need pork, the country needs the best service that all can give, so let us not slacken in our duty, for fear the margins of profit might not be abnormally wide. The margins will take care of themselves if the feeder will study his business.

GIRL WHO STOOD UP FOR WILSON IS FIRM

Warren, Ark.—Word was received here that the supporters of Pleas White, the minister who was called a coward by Miss Lucille McCullough when he severely criticised President Wilson and the Government, were circulating a petition asking for the rearrest of Miss McCullough. It is reported there are 65 signers to the petition.

Federal authorities at Memphis have already written to this county for a list of all who sympathized with the minister in his statements made from the pulpit of the Macedonia Free Will Baptist church on June 3.

Both McCullough and his daughter, Miss Lucille, were in Warren recently, and Mr. McCullough is very proud of his daughter. When she came home and told him some of the things the minister had said to his congregation and that she had left the church after calling the minister a coward, Mr. McCullough said he was so proud of her that he promised to buy a $100 Liberty bond and that he went to his bank the next day and put in his application for the bond.

It is reported that the minister's speech was so bitter against the war and President Wilson that one young man in particular who intended enlisting in the guards now States that he will not enlist.

WANTED IN KENTUCKY.

Pine Bluff, Ark.—Sheriff R. H. Williams received a telegram from the sheriff at Hardinsburg, Breckenridge county, Ky., stating that a reward of $200 is offered for the capture of Elisha Lampkins, who was arrested at Redfield, this county, on a charge of evading the selective draft registration, and who it is claimed, admitted that he is wanted in Hardinsburg for trial on an indictment charging him with the murder of a wealthy man named Horsely, more than two years ago.

An officer from Hardinsburg arrived to take Lampkins back to Kentucky. Lampkins was known in this county as Charles Miller and admitted to the sheriff that he broke out of the Hardinsburg jail about two years ago. His wife expects to accompany him to Kentucky.

WHEN COAL WAS SCARCE.

A prominent Omaha citizen was walking down the street recently in an uncertain way, holding a handkerchief to his face. A friend accosted him and demanded to know what the trouble might be.

"I've something in my eye!" exclaimed the sufferer. "And it hurts like the dickens!"

"Why don't you step into this drug store and have the clerk take it out?" snorted his friend.

"I'm afraid to," sighed the man with the red eye. "It might be a piece of coal!"

O TIME AND CHANGE.

When we were kinds together, Jane—
Can you that time recall?—
And played along the shady lane,
Beneath the maples tall;
You then were nine and I was ten,
And oft I'd say in fun:
"Just think, Jane, you'll be twenty when I come to twenty-one!"

But when I came to twenty-one,
A gawky youth and green,
I wondered how the trick was done—
For you were just eighteen!
Then luring fortune beckoned me—
The world I wandered o'er;
I got back home at thirty-three,
And found you twenty-four!

And now I'm getting old indeed—
These gray hairs make that plain;
My flower of youth has gone to seed—

Pray, what's the secret, Jane?
I'm lost—I know not what to do—
O cruel fate that's mine!
For lo! I now am forty-two.
While you're but twenty-nine!

TAX REFERENDUM.

The legislative act permitting a referendum vote on the law which classifies property for taxing purposes, and exempts stocks, bonds, notes and other intangibles from local taxation, requires a written petition for such vote signed by legal voters equal in number to five per cent. of the votes cast for Governor at the last election. This petition must be filed with the Secretary of State within four months after the adjournment of the special session—April 25, 1917. More than one-half the time allowed has passed, and if the farmers and others so vitally interested in nullifying this class legislation expect to see that the voters have a chance to express themselves it is high time some organization is formed to secure the submission of the proposition at the coming election.

The General Assembly had the power and authority under the amendment to the Constitution to provide for referendum without any petition or other action being taken, but the sponsors for the pet measure in favor of the bondholder, succeeded in getting this tedious requirement tacked on with the hope that the great mass of poor fellows who oppose this discriminatory law would not take the time or incur the expense necessary to secure a referendum vote. However, it will be very easily accomplished if a few leaders in each county form an organization and let the people know what it means to them, and then send a petition to each voting precinct for signatures.

The farmers' organization could, in our judgment, render no better service to its members and others upon whom the entire burden of local taxation is placed than to take hold of this matter and insure a referendum vote. We would like to see the opportunity given, and will, through the columns of The Herald, get behind the effort and give it as much publicity as possible, provided, our people want a submission. If you let the time for action pass and you find you have been made the "goat," don't say we did not warn you.

The German war plans as now understood, was: Paris in three weeks, London in three months, Washington in three years. Maybe that will make Americans realize why we have to share in this war.—[Commercial Appeal.]

Yes, maybe it will make Americans realize why we have a share in the war. But we have a whole lot of people in this grand country of ours who are Americans only because they live in America, and not at heart. There are thousands of people today who are holding President Wilson, individually, responsible for our having to fight Germany just because he happens to be at the head of the nation. True blue Americans though, irrespective of politics, take the sensible view of the matter.

The Christian County Strawberry Association sold its first crop this year, and realized $20,000 for it. And they had unfavorable weather, too. It strikes us that strawberry growing would not be a bad try for some of our farmers, and we are confident our land will produce berries just as fine and in as great abundance as any section in the State. There's money in 'em, farmers!

President Wilson has designated this week (June 23 to 30) as recruiting week for the regular army, and calls on all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 40 years, without dependents, and who are engaged in no pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war to present themselves for enlistment during this week, to help fill the ranks of the regular army.

Col. Jas. R. Lemon, of the Mayfield Messenger, in a talk before the First District Press Association, at Mayfield, last week, said: "The man who tries to print a paper on a credit is it for cash is also up against it." This being true, we are jest' naturally up against it anyway you take, ain't we Colonel?

Billy Sunday has closed his campaign in New York. Billy, Ma Sunday and the rest of 'em have gone to Winona Lake, Ind., to rest a while before going to Hood River, Ore., for July and August. While in New York, Billy had thousands who had never hit anything before but booze, "hitting the trail."

A dispatch says "Every Christian county kitchen to be a cannery." And let us have the same can be said of Ohio county. Every available vegetable that is not consumed as it comes from the garden should be canned, for it is the consensus of opinion that everything in this line will bring tip-top prices this winter. Then, too, it's patriotic!

A San Francisco teacher was ousted, after teaching 17 years, because of remarks disloyal to the United States. She said she could not teach the children to honor the flag because it meant nothing to her. But if her "hide" was in danger she would be mighty glad to get under the folds of Old Glory. Such people as this should be deported.

More than 800 girls between the ages of 19 and 20 years have disappeared in New York since January 1st. This startling fact was brought out in connection with the finding of the body of Miss Ruth Kruger, who was last seen in a bicycle repair shop in that city early in January. Perhaps Gotham's police department needs overhauling.

The Owensboro Messenger says there is no excuse for an idle man or boy in that town this summer, and we could say as much for Hartford, or most any other place, for that matter, but we find the idlers just the same. The idle are like the poor—we have them with us always.

Beach Hargis, slayer of his father, has violated the provisions of his parole, and is again partaking of John Barleycorn and is free in the use of shootin' irons. There's only one place for such fellows as Beach and that's the institution from which he was paroled.

A Warren, Ark., young lady denounced a minister of a church she was attending as a coward after he had delivered a bitter attack upon the President and the Government. Her daddy was so proud of her that he immediately went out and bought her a Liberty Bond.

A New York broker sold Liberty Bonds below par. After a government committee had investigated he bought them back at 100. To ease his conscience, he also contributed $100,000 to the Red Cross. Better papers please copy.

Another U-boat sunk by an American steamer, but there were considerably more steamers sunk by the subs during the past week than the week previous. Come on ye American inventors, give us something with which to combat 'em.

George Bingham has sold his interest in the Mayfield Times to his son, Geo. A. Johnston. Bingham is a regular weekly contributor to Judge, and will continue writing "Hogswallow 'stuff'" for a New York syndicate.

The temperature of flour (from a price standpoint) dropped again the other day. But it is somewhat like the temperature of the weather—very unreliable—and is apt to rise again any minute.

All those who registered under the selective draft will not have to go to the front by any means, as the physical requirements are rather severe, and it is estimated that only about 40 out of 60 per cent will pass.

Should not be any trouble in getting the boys to go to the front if we could just get that regiment of women that has been reseeded in Prussia to come over here and lead the way.

According to news dispatches crops in Germany are ruining for want of rain. Seems as if "me and Gott" have dissolved partnership insofar as raising food supplies are concerned.

Food riots, according to dispatches are occurring in Germany, and the situation there is becoming acute. "Me and Gott" will come out on top, all right, however, to hear him tell it.

We feel considerably better since the news dispatches report a big increase in the Kansas wheat crop. Biscuits will not now possibly become as rare as a "June frost."

June 21 is past and the days from now begin to get shorter and shorter—for most everyone 'cept the editor—it's about twelve hours per day for him the year 'round.

The Post-Office Department has ruled that any drink containing alcohol in any form is barred from advertisements entering dry territory.

Headline says: "King Constantine of Greece going to Baden Baden." We thought he was going to bad'en worse.

Temperature is pretty near that stage when the guy you meet on the street says, "is it warm enough for you?"

UNITED STATES TO
RUSH ARMY CAMPS

Operations of Draft Law Will Begin Early in July, Says
Secretary Baker.

Washington, June 22.—There will be no serious delay in construction of the sixteen cantonments for the national army, Secretary Baker said today and all of the establishments probably will be ready about September 1, the tentative date considered for summoning to the colors the first 625,000 men. The process of selecting the men, the Secretary indicated probably will be set in motion early in July.

Regulations for the exemption and selection processes have been prepared and will be made public next week. President Wilson is understood to have approved the general scheme worked out by the War Department to secure fair and unselfish officials. Minor modifications are application of the law through local being made but plans will be completed in a few days.

Machinery for the great task of constructing complete and in some cases actual physical, preparations have begun. Most of the contracts have been let, army officers have been detailed to oversee construction and under an order published today the engineer units of the National Guard of fifteen States will be mustered into the Federal service immediately to aid in technical features of the work.

Army Engineers to Supervise.

At each cantonment it was announced today, all construction operations will be under direction of a constructing Quartermaster. Seven of the men designated for these posts are regular army officers and the other nine are successful civilian engineers who have been commissioned as majors in the Quartermaster's Reserve Corps. The department attaches particular importance to the work of the constructing Quartermasters because as the responsible representatives of the Government they will check up all the figures of the constructors to see that their cost plus percentage contracts are fairly executed.

The only question as to cantonment sites that is not finally settled, Mr. Baker said, involves a possible relocation of the cantonment now assigned to Des Moines, Objection has been raised to the Des Moines location on the ground that railway facilities are not adequate and that it will be impossible to provide proper drainage. These points have been reopened for consideration.

Building of the cantonments, the Secretary said, would proceed on the present general specifications, the some minor modifications would be made because of suggestions by the medical committee of the defense council of which Surgeon General Gorham is a member.

Material and Transportation.

The main problem now are those of material and transportation. A new difficulty has presented itself in the shape of a shortage of iron water pipe. An enormous quantity of piping will be needed for the mains and connections at the camps and the available supply officials say will not meet the demand without crippling ordinary activities of the country. For this reason a considerable quantity of wooden piping will be used.

By way of emphasizing what can be done in a short time, when all the resources of the department are put to work, officials revealed today that cantonments for the regular army made necessary by the expansion for war purposes have been rushed almost to completion. The work did not involve of course, anything like the amount of material or labor needed for the sixteen big cantonments, but it was in itself a big undertaking and was put through on record time.

MADE A GOOD HAUL.

Night Patrolman Williams Wednesday morning, spotting a stray negro with a suitcase that appeared rather heavy, on the depot platform following the departure of south-bound train No. 53, started an investigation, says the Madisonville Hustler. He questioned the negro and asked him to open the suitcase. He did so, but when a new ladies' slipper dropped out, the coon made a dash around the freight depot and succeeded in getting away, leaving the suitcase behind. There were four new summer suits of clothes, several pairs of shoes and other wearing apparel. It is believed the negro stole the goods in Evansville.

INJURED WHILE

SLACKING LINE

Charles Williams, an employe of Nazareth, met with a most peculiar and at the same time a most painful accident last Friday. While slacking lime a large lump of the raw lime exploded and splattered the face and neck of Williams with the scalding substance. Wherever the hot lime touched, he was badly burned, his face, neck and shoulders were a mass of burns and for a time it was thought he would lose his eyesight, this danger, however, is passed. The wounded man was removed to St. Joseph's Infirmary, in Louisville, where, at last reports, though suffering great pain of his many and severe burns, he is doing as well as could be expected.—[Bardstown Standard.]

TRAITORS IN AMERICA

Attempting in Vain to Have Mexican Papers Take Pro-German Attitude.

Mexico City, June 22.—Every possible pressure, including financial offers, is reported to have been brought to bear by Germans and pro-Germans to stop the campaign of El Universal for the severance of relations between Mexico and Germany. The campaign continues to be the main topic of conversation here. El Universal will say editorially tomorrow that in the flood of comment which its stand has evoked no paper or person has taken a pro-German stand or proposed that Mexico ally herself with the central powers.

The editorial declares that the opinion of intellectual leaders were chosen to give point to the papers campaign as governmental officials, from the nature of their positions, could say nothing, and politicians always played safe while it was the purpose of the paper to give expression to the opinion of the real thinking people of Mexico.

The discussion of the campaign has brought a renewal of charges that pro-German papers are being directly aided in their campaign against the United States by free print paper supplied by firms in the United States. It is known that 400 rolls of paper were shipped by the steamer Monterey from a New York firm to Vera Cruz in April. It is charged that La Opinion, of Vera Cruz, was offered part of this shipment free if it would take a pro-German stand. The paper refused, and the shipment reached Mexico City.

Other papers here have repeatedly charged that the 40 rolls were given free to pro-German papers in the capital.

Telegraphic news, written with the obvious purpose of misrepresenting the United States, comes from New York and apparently has no difficulty in passing the censor.

J. R. WELLER IN RACE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The Herald this week announces Mr. J. R. Weller (better known as "Reusau") who is a candidate for the nomination for Representative of Ohio county, subject to the action of the Democratic party, primary, August 4, 1917.

Mr. Weller needs no introduction to a majority of our readers, but to those who are not acquainted with him, it might be said that he is a farmer, absolutely honest and upright, a loyal Democrat, fully capable of filling the office he seeks, and will exert his best efforts, if honored with the party nomination, to win in the final, and if elected will go to Frankfort as a representative of the people.

THIS IS THE ARMY TEST.

Army surgeons predict nearly 40 per cent. of the men to be drafted will be rejected, so severe is the physical test of the army. At present rejections in the regular army, average from 40 to 60 per cent. There are the requirements:

Height—not less than 5 feet 4 inches, nor more than 6 feet.

Weight—not less than 128 pounds nor more than 190.

Lungs and heart must be well nigh perfect. Any heart "murmur" disqualifies.

Hearing and sight must be good. Color blindness is not necessarily a disqualification.

Chronic diseases or mental disorders cause rejection.

Loss of fingers on toes, or an ear, are disqualifications.

Flat feet or deformed feet are causes for rejection.

At least four molar teeth are necessary.

No one with an affection of the kidneys or chest can pass.

MISS LELIA GLENN,

C. K. CARSON,

OZNA SHULTS,

Program Committee.

The attention of every teacher in the county is respectfully called to section 192 of the Common School Law which provides that real sickness or other disability is the only valid excuse for non-attendance during the full session of the Institute.

It was found impossible to place all teachers on the program, but all subjects are open for general discussion and every teacher is supposed to take part in them.

The Institute is primarily for the teacher. It is an expensive luxury and every teacher should bring something with him and take something away. An invitation is extended to the public to be present at all the sessions and especially on Thursday—Trustee Day—and Thursday night, the night of the Common School graduation exercises.

You are also especially invited to attend the lecture on Wednesday evening, of Dr. W. A. Ganfield, who is recognized as one of the greatest platform orators of the South.

Everyone who passed the common school examination, either in January or May, is expected to be present on Thursday evening and receive their diplomas.

Prof. W. J. Craig, the Instructor, is at present one of the teachers in the W. T. C. N. at Bowling Green, Ky. He has had more than 20 years experience in school work, and is recognized as one of the strongest and most progressive school men of the State.

Please come, meet with us and get the inspiration, and if every teacher, trustee and patron in the county will do their duty, it will mean much for the betterment and uplift of the great army of more than 8,486 school boys and girls of our County.

Patrons, teachers, trustees and citizens, one and all, we will expect you.

Sincerely yours,

OZNA SHULTS, S. S. O. C.

ONE OF OUR FOLLIES.

Killing something like 3,000,000 calves a year is one of them. The most of these are under three weeks old. Hundreds of thousands of them are under one week old. We have contended against this wretched traffic for years on the ground of the sufferings endured by these helpless little creatures in transit and at the slaughter-houses. It looks at last as though, on the ground of economy, to conserve the meat supply of the country the nation would some day have sense enough to stop the shameful waste. A bill has been introduced into Congress to prohibit the slaughter of any calf under two years of age. The New York Herald says, editorially:

Residents of cities who complain of the high price of meats, a condition that has existed since long before the war, are not guiltless in the matter. They insist on demanding veal from their butchers, and in order to supply this demand for a succulent, young meat, millions of calves, weighing from 100 to 150 pounds each, must be slaughtered. If these animals were permitted to live two years instead of a month or six weeks, they would weigh from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds and the shortage in the national meat supply would be less acute. . . . The conservation of young livestock, which means the increase in the country's meat supply and in the enrichment of the soil that is called on to produce the grain and vegetable supplies, is an economic necessity that shrieks its importance every time the price of meat rises a fraction of a cent.—[Our Dumb Animals.]

Never Neglect a Cold.

A chill after bathing, cooling off suddenly after exercise and drafts, give the cold germ a foothold that may lead to something worse. Safety requires early treatment. Keep Dr. King's New Discovery on hand. This pleasant balsam remedy allays inflammation, soothes the cough and repairs the tissues. Better be safe than sorry. Break up the cold with Dr. King's New Discovery before it is too late. At your druggist, 50c and $1.00. Advertisement.

TURTLE FALES FROM

CLOUDS NEAR POTTSVILLE

Jack Dawson, living near Pottsville, was in the city Saturday and told about a big mud turtle having fallen at his home last Sunday afternoon. There was no wind blowing and the turtle fell straight from the clouds with a crash to the ground. Mr. Dawson said the turtle was about the size of an ordinary straw hat.—[Mayfield Messenger.]

DOUBLY PROVEN

Hartford Readers, Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Hartford citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

S. L. King, proprietor harness and grocery store, Main St., Hartford, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a good medicine for kidney trouble for they have done me a great deal of good whenever I have had occasion to use them. Several times I have suffered from pains that I knew were caused from weak kidneys. At these times I have got Doan's Kidney Pills and have used them as directed. They have never failed to cure the attack." (Statement given February 23, 1912.)

On November 15, 1916, Mr. King said: "I still have an excellent opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and don't mind re-endorsing them. I use this medicine occasionally and always have excellent results."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y.

EULOGY ON THE HORSE.

In an eloquent tribute to the horse, written by that active friend of animals, Mr. George Foster Howell of Brooklyn, New York, and published in a recent issue of the Ledger-Dispatch, Norfolk, Virginia, occur these pertinent paragraphs:

"On the battlefield the horse faces the enemy as bravely as the most heroic soldier that ever carried a bayonet and when shot and shell tear and rend his powerful body he gives up his life for man without a whimper—he utters only the groan of the dumb and speechless. It was he who delighted the hearts of kings, princes and potentates. He is the useful servant not only of royalty but of the humblest human creature, be he peasant or even peddler.

"One torment of the horse's life is the average thoughtlessly cruel boy who drives the grocery wagon. The youth no sooner jumps on the wagon than the reins are given a hard, sharp slap on the horse's back and he is kept going at high speed. When he wants to stop he hauls up the lines so suddenly and so violently as to almost pull the animal down on its haunches. Many of these irresponsible youths beat the horse with the whip, and the welts thus made are always silent witnesses of the boy's cruel nature, but the groceryman is too busy to know or to care what happens to his horse, so long as he can sell groceries and deliver the goods.

"In dealing with the horse, let us put ourselves in his place. Let us practice the golden rule. Suppose you were the horse and the horse the man, how would you like the horse to treat you? Answer that question honestly and the whole problem of justice and mercy to the horse and to all other animals is instantly solved satisfactorily."—[Our Dumb Animals.]

DOUBLY PROVEN

Hartford Readers, Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Hartford citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

S. L. King, proprietor harness and grocery store, Main St., Hartford, says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a good medicine for kidney trouble for they have done me a great deal of good whenever I have had occasion to use them. Several times I have suffered from pains that I knew were caused from weak kidneys. At these times I have got Doan's Kidney Pills and have used them as directed. They have never failed to cure the attack." (Statement given February 23, 1912.)

On November 15, 1916, Mr. King said: "I still have an excellent opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and don't mind re-endorsing them. I use this medicine occasionally and always have excellent results."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Woman With a Country

With Apologies to the Author of "The Man Without a Country."

By Helen Rowland

ALWAYS,
They have said of her,
"Why shall she vote?"
"In time of war, what could SHE do to defend her Country—if she had one?"
"Poor, foolish, tender, clinging, helpless little thing!"
"How she hobbles of 'Equality'!"
"SHE—who trembles in a thunderstorm,
And shudders at the booming of a sunset gun!
"Why shall she vote? SHE cannot fight, and kill and die, if need be, for her Country!"
Well,
It has come—HER Hour!
And, with her "tender, clinging, helpless" hands,
She is making munitions—for England.
With her soft, white, useless fingers she is fashioning shells—
A hundred deaths in every one of them!
Everywhere, she is ploughing, planting, gathering,
Sowing, reaping, harvesting,
And thus saving thousands of lives
For Her Country.

Their Suffrage Promise A Moral Obligation to Oklahoma Legislators

Mrs. Lucas, First Woman to Enroll
a Bill, Extols Political Leaders.

A political promise is no scrap of paper to Oklahoma legislators. An overwhelmingly Democratic legislature demonstrated what President Wilson calls the "moral obligation" of the St. Louis national suffrage plank by adopting the Oklahoma suffrage amendment resolution in both houses in March of this year.

Back of Oklahoma's recent suffrage victory is a story of man's humanity and gratitude to woman. It is told by Mrs. Frank B. Lucas of Oklahoma City, who claims the distinction of being the only woman to enroll a legislative measure. Enrolling an act, Mrs. Lucas explains, is the final disposition made of a successful measure.

"Why did they permit me to do it?" said Mrs. Lucas. "Because they knew I understood the procedure. It is my vocation to compile, annotate and cite laws. The legislators let me enroll the suffrage bill because they knew I could be trusted not to alter a word or a line. Never was I so tempted! The resolution had been amended to permit women to vote at the primaries but the amendment had been lost. I did want to see that amendment go in."

From the Governor, who was pleased to sign the resolution, down Mrs. Lucas has nothing but kind words for the men of her state. Indeed, they seem to merit her praise. And she should know for she chaperoned the bill through all its vicissitudes up to the moment of passage on the closing night after the clock had been stopped to permit the transaction of legislative business.

Men of all parties throughout the state were in favor of the amendment and did all in their power to facilitate its passage.

MRS. FRANK B. LUCAS.

On the last night when the bill had not yet been reported out of committee, Mrs. Lucas persuaded one of its friends to call a caucus and bind the members by caucus rule, and when the measure came to a vote later in the evening, it carried without a dissenting voice. She hurried with the engrossed bill to the House to have that body recede from its primary election clause and ratify the substituted general election. Then back she went to the Senate for the president's signature; and again to the House for the Speaker's signature and to have the bill engrossed with its amendments. At 2 a.m. Mrs. Lucas had the satisfaction of enrolling the act which will emancipate the Oklahoma women if the campaign prosecuted by the suffragists during the coming months is brought to a successful conclusion at the polls in 1918.

The president of the Oklahoma State Suffrage Association is Mrs. Adella G. Stephens. The corresponding secretary is Mrs. Julia Woodworth.

GAINS IN UNITED STATES SINCE JANUARY FIRST

Woman Suffrage Now in More Than Half The Area of U. S.—
Woman Voting Strength Nearly Doubled Since the First of January.

Nebraska's 77,520 square miles of territory has raised the total area in which women may vote side by side with men to a fraction more than half of continental United States. Eleven of the fifteen biggest states in the Union are now under the suffrage flag. The total number of women of voting age to whom complete, or near complete, suffrage has been granted, is now 8,557,308; 48 per cent. of this number has been gained since the first of January, 1917. The total number of electoral college votes which women may participate in choosing at the next presidential election is 172—out of a total of 531.

Nineteen states of the Union now give women a right to vote for President of the United States.

North Dakota led the whole procession of 1917 suffrage victories—the first state into the suffrage fold in the National American Woman Suffrage Association's drive for presidential suffrage. Ohio was the first of the newly victorious states east of the Mississippi to come into her own, and Indiana is the first state to let women vote upon their own enfranchisement, though the women of Wyoming territory did this in 1890.

On March 8, Governor Brough of Arkansas signed a bill giving women a new and effective form of suffrage, the right to vote in primary elections, Arkansas being the first state to pass this measure.

Suffrage a War Measure.

Woman suffrage has become a war measure in England, Canada, Russia, and France. Rhode Island is the first state in the Union to adopt suffrage as a part of our national preparedness. On April 19—Wake Up America Day—the message ran forth to every village and farm that Michigan women were going to be free to vote in presidential elections, thus sounding the note of preparedness for the national crisis in the Middle West.

Then came Nebraska with its eight electoral college votes and its addition of 110,000 women of voting age to the suffrage forces.

Besides the signal successes in these seven states, North Dakota, Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, Rhode Island, Michigan, and Nebraska, there have been legislative victories of more or less importance in eleven other states since January.

Bills for full suffrage by amendments to their state constitutions have passed the 1917 legislatures of New York, Maine, South Dakota, Iowa, Oklahoma and Michigan.

In New York and Maine, the enfranchisement of women will be voted on this year. In South Dakota, Oklahoma and Michigan it will be voted on in 1918.

WHERE THE SUFFRAGE FLAG FLOATS

To recapitulate, the suffrage cause has this year annexed 338,314 square miles of territory. Up to the end of 1916, suffrage extended over 1,205,329 square miles, or 39 per cent. of continental United States, not including Alaska. On April 22nd of this year, the suffrage flag floated over 1,543,643 square miles, or 50.9 per cent. Including Alaska, where women have suffrage on the same terms as men, 2,134,527 square miles, or 57 per cent. of the total possessions of the United States, except the newly acquired Virgin Islands, are now under the banner of freedom. This area is a long way out of the "Half slave and half free" type of democracy which still prevails in the other 43 per cent. of the United States.

Two Strong Columbus Features

AT the rear end of the Columbus wagon box you will find two improvements that will mean much to you in the coming years while you use the wagon.

There is the International folding end-gate (patent applied for). Split end-gates are now done away with. You will see that it is easy to remove or replace; that it will stay in position; that it is very strong, made firm by four cross sills to prevent splitting, and by a spring steel bar.

Then there is the center link box rod. This rod couples in the center and has a threaded handle nut on each side of the box. When uncoupled the rod always remains fast to the box. The new link end rod means no more lost or bent rods, and no more stripped threads. You can tighten the rod from either side. Come in and see the handiest box-end arrangement you ever saw.

OLATON.

June 24.—We had a fine rain Saturday night, which was badly needed. The early potato crop is very large and the rain Saturday night will make them yield more. I visited R. L. Canan, at Drakesboro, the last two weeks, and I saw them selling potatoes there at 10c per pound.

Drakesboro is a nice little town of 1,200 or 1,500 inhabitants, and the mines are running full time, making business good. Everything there closes on Sunday except the drug stores. The barber shop closes on Sunday.

Rev. Beard, of McHenry, filled his regular appointment Saturday night and Sunday. The Sunday School at the Methodist church was well attended. Every one should attend church and Sunday School next Sunday, as it is requested by the Governor that all attend church that day.

Mr. J. W. Daniel and family, of Owensboro, were here Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Daniel and other relatives.

Messrs. Carson, Duncan and Ike May caught three fine catfish Saturday night.

SURVEYING ROAD.

Mr. M. H. Nelson, Jr., a civil engineer from Hopkinsville, has been here several days doing some surveying on the inter-county seat highway, between here and Owensboro, and we are informed that just as soon as possible, this part of Ohio county's road will be put in better shape.

We understand that the party who is doing the surveying is going at a rapid rate, some three or four miles per day, and it will not be but a short time until his part of the work will be completed.

It is possible that grading on this section of road will begin as soon as Mr. Nelson completes his estimate of the work.

We are aware of the fact that there are lots of road in this county that is badly in need of work, but it seems to us that if there is one good piece of road in Ohio county it should be that which is traveled most, and we doubt if there is more travel over any of our roads than this, unless it be that between here and Beaver Dam.

Our roads would not be so bad if they were worked real good in the spring, and every overseer should see to it that his part of the road is just a little better than the other fellow's when he is through working it.

Good roads are a county's best asset, and we should have them. And we will.

Glenmore Expects To Continue In Operation Throughout the Year

In time of Peace the "Mortgage Lifter." In time of War the soldier's ration—THE HOG.

The Hog will convert the farm grown grains and grasses into edible human food more efficiently than any other farm animal. It does not take two years for the hog to mobilize into an army of meat producers; six to eight months is ample time to pay your debts or to feed your nation's Army and Navy. Commence feeding now as a patriotic measure as well as for big profits and quick returns. Highest possibilities can be obtained by the use of our LIQUID FEED.
